Kirtas Technologies and Stockholm-based Molander & Son AB bring high-speed, nondestructive book digitizing to the Nordic Countries

AMSTERDAM, 9 SEPTEMBER 2008 – Kirtas Europe, the wholly-owned European subsidiary of Kirtas Technologies today announced the latest addition to its reseller family and the only company representing Kirtas in the Nordic Countries.

Molander & Son AB, is a Stockholm-based, family-owned company with nearly 90 years of experience in the photographic and imaging business. Molander & Son AB is the leading vendor in Sweden and the neighboring Nordic markets, providing high-end digital imaging equipment for professional photographers, institutions like libraries and museums, and the reprographic industry.

“Like so many other countries around the world, the demand for high-speed, nondestructive book digitization in Sweden and the other Nordic countries is great,” said Marcel Aldewereld, general manager of Kirtas Europe. “We’re tremendously excited to have a company as successful, established and trusted as Molander & Son to be representing the Kirtas brand.”

About Kirtas Technologies

Since the company was founded in 2001, Kirtas Technologies has pioneered and perfected the technology used today in quality, high-speed, nondestructive mass book digitization. The company’s revolutionary technology redefines digitization of all bound documents, delivering the gentlest handling, the highest image quality, faster and with fewer errors than any other solution in the marketplace today.
